COMPANY HISTORY

User Friendly Consulting (UFC®) was formed in 1990 in Michigan by Joe Hill to serve the computer consulting needs of the telecommunications industry in south-east Michigan. The business expanded first to computer desktop support, database programming, and enterprise content management (ECM) through partnership with FileNet® (now IBM). Beginning in 2000 the company expanded to the growing document capture and forms processing field and added partnerships with Prevalent Software for the Quillix product and later with ABBYY USA for their FlexiCapture and FineReader products. As the document capture technology advanced the company began more strategic partnerships in 2014 for the resale and integration of advanced technologies including IRISXTract and FlexiCapture for Invoices that provide automated purchase order and invoice processing.
